Dear Members of the Los Angeles County Boundary Review Committee:

I have lived in the County of Los Angeles and the Whittier unincorporated area for many years and urge the Boundary Review Committee (BRC) to approve a map for Los Angeles County Board of Supervisor districts that complies with the Voting Rights Act of 1965 (VRA), and gives Latinos in Los Angeles County a fair opportunity to choose our elected representatives.

In the Spring/Summer of 2010, my community worked tirelessly as volunteers, door to door, encouraging our neighbors to participate in the Census 2010. We reminded our neighbors about the importance of being counted. Census 2010 data reveals that the Latino population of Los Angeles County increased by 10.5 percent during the last decade. We have noticed this change in our communities for years.

One of our main concerns is not to lose the kind of representation we have had from Supervisor Gloria Molina who has given the Latino community fair representation and a responsive local government in South Whittier and the Whittier unincorporated area, and we wish for the First District South Whittier area to remain the same and not be moved to another district. The Latino community is very worried about losing the representation we have been accustomed to receiving from Supervisor Gloria Molina.

Also, we support creating two "Latino" districts, where Latinos comprise at least 50 percent of the citizen voting age population. Our community asks that the plan adopted by the BRC be fair and that it adequately reflect the Latino population growth to provide Latinos with fair representation.

I strongly support keeping my community as part of the First Supervisorial District of Los Angeles County, and to create another County Supervisorial district that extends more representation to the Latino community.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

Rafael Brena

Our community asks that the plan adopted by the BRC be fair and that it adequately reflect the Latino population growth to provide Latinos with fair representation. The redistricting plan must create at least two districts to permit Latino community members to effectively elect the candidates of their choice. There have been several plans presented to the BRC which create two districts with at least 50 percent Latino citizen voting age population. These maps demonstrate that it is possible for the BRC to develop a plan with two Latino districts.

Dear Members of the Los Angeles County Boundary Review Committee:

I have lived in the County of Los Angeles and the Whittier unincorporated area for many years and urge the Boundary Review Committee (BRC) to approve a map for Los Angeles County Board of Supervisor districts that complies with the Voting Rights Act of 1965 (VRA), and gives Latinos in Los Angeles County a fair opportunity to choose our elected representatives. I support creating two "Latino" districts, where Latinos comprise at least 50 percent of the citizen voting age population.

In the Spring/Summer of 2010, several of my neighbors and I worked tirelessly, door to door encouraging our neighbors to participate in the Census 2010. We reminded our neighbors about the importance of being counted. Census 2010 data reveals that the Latino population of Los Angeles County increased by 10.5 percent during the last decade. We have noticed this change in our communities for years.

One of our main concerns is not to lose the kind of representation we have had from Supervisor Gloria Molina who has given the Latino community fair representation and a responsive local government in South Whittier and the Whittier unincorporated area. One of the other growing concerns for our community is the lack of access to health services, and to social services that are culturally competent.

Our community asks that the plan adopted by the BRC be fair and that it adequately reflect the Latino population growth to provide Latinos with fair representation. The redistricting plan must create at least two districts to permit Latino community members to effectively elect the candidates of their choice. There have been several plans presented to the BRC which create two districts with at least 50 percent Latino citizen voting age population. These maps demonstrate that it is possible for the BRC to develop a plan with two Latino districts.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

Rosalia Contreras
